

1. It is not until we lose something precious that we come to fully appreciate its value.
2. The project, which had been anticipated to succeed beyond expectations, ended up falling short due to unforeseen challenges.
3. Far from being a mere distraction, social media has profoundly altered the way people interact and perceive the world.
4. Had it not been for his timely intervention, the situation could have escalated into a major crisis.
5. The notion that success can be achieved without effort is not only misleading but also detrimental to one's long-term development.
6. By no means should we underestimate the importance of addressing climate change at a global level.
7. While the new policy may, at first glance, appear to address the issue effectively, it ultimately fails to tackle the root causes.
8. It is imperative that individuals not only recognize their rights but also fulfill their responsibilities within a democratic society.
9. Much as he admired her determination, he couldn't help but question the practicality of her ambitious plan.
10. The challenges we face today are, to a large extent, the result of decisions made without considering their long-term consequences.